

Prayer for My Marriage

Heavenly Father, You are perfect. You are Wisdom and Knowledge, Healer and Restorer. Your Word says You know the plans You have for me and my husband. Plans to prosper us and not to harm us, plans to give us a hope and a future. (Jer. 29:11) Today, we stand on that promise, believing You for our marriage. Your Word says You are the Lord of all mankind. There is nothing too hard for you. (Jer. 32:27).

Nothing going on in our marriage is beyond Your healing and restorative power. For nothing is impossible with You. (Luke 18:27). Thank You for the promise that when we seek You with all our hearts, there is no good thing that You will withhold. (Psalm 34:10). Father, you are El Roi, the God who sees us, our hurts, needs, and struggles. (Gen 16:13)

You made the way possible for redemption and healing by the blood shed by Your Son Jesus on the cross. You alone have the power to heal the hurting places in our marriage. Help us to lay aside our will, our hurt, our anger, and resentment, so You can begin the work of restoring us.

Father, forgive each of us for our parts in this mess. Break our hearts and make them tender to see our faults, our selfishness, and our critical spirits. Give us a spirit of humility to allow You to begin Your mighty work in us. We stand on Your promises and believe for Your healing in our Marriage today. In Jesus' Name we pray this. Amen.
